

Edward Professional Advisors Business-Class Email Services

Email has become a critical business tool. Research indicates that up to 70% of business data resides in email. The temporary or permanent loss of email can translate into lost revenue, lost customers and the inability to conduct day-to-day business.

Edward Professional Advisors business-class e-mail, based on Microsoft Hosted Exchange, includes a daily backup of your email, calendar items, business contacts and shared files and folders. Basic or 'free' email services often only backup every week, and once you've downloaded an email to your laptop it is 'lost' from the server and cannot be recovered regardless of backups.

Starting at just $10/user/month, wouldn't you rather know that you're protected in case your data is accidentally or maliciously lost or destroyed?

Here are the plans that you can choose from:

MS Exchange 2007	Pro 500	Power 1000	Exec 3000

Mobility Options: Using Microsoft Hosted Exchange, you can also link your Outlook information to your iPhone, Blackberry*, Android, or other smartphone so that you can access your information and important files on the go!

If you or your employees have ever lugged a laptop around town just to access critical business files, or you've had employees that are concerned about safety when carrying a laptop, Edward Professional Advisors business-class messaging, based on Microsoft Hosted Exchange, might be a solution for you.

Business-class messaging includes support for access from any Internet-connected PC, device or kiosk, including access to e-mail, personal and corporate contacts, calendars and shared folders with critical business files.
